

Things you will need for your new puppy.

Food

Feeding your puppy a high-quality, complete and balanced puppy food helps set him up for a long and healthy life as an adult dog. At Platte Doodles, we feed Purina Pro Plan Puppy – Lamb and Rice to our puppies. By the time your puppy is going home to you, he/she has been eating kibble exclusively for a few weeks. Pro-tip – Chewy.com will deliver everything right to your front door. It is a wonderful thing.

Bowls

Collar or halter and leash

Treats

You will want to have lots of small, soft treats for training your puppy. Our dogs really like these Nutri source treats. Pro-tip – TJ Maxx is a great place to get dog treats.

Here are some others we like.

Chew Toys

Dogs – at all stages of their life, like to chew. They NEED to chew. Give them good options to chew on so they don't chew on things they shouldn't. Chewing also helps keep their teeth clean.

Cheese Chews / Yak Chews / Himalayan Chews – these are a little pricey, but worth it. They are completely edible and last quite a while.

Nylabone – these last almost forever and come in different flavors and shapes.

Crates

This 42" x 28" x 30" crate is a good size for standard goldendoodles. You will need to purchase a crate with a divider to make the crate small when your puppy is small. You can purchase dividers separately (Amazon) if you purchase a used crate. You can purchase them 1 or 2 doors, whatever works for the space you have.

Toys

A variety of toys to interest and keep your puppy busy. Here are some we like.
